

Beekeeper visits Dudley Elementary

Written by Elizabeth Barrett

Wednesday, 02 February 2011 22:13 -

Local bee keeper Jim Long gave a presentation about his career choice to Dudley Elementary fourth graders last week. Long has visited Claudine Kennicutt's classroom for the past five years when the grade does a unit on Nebraska agriculture for social studies. Margeaux Belanger (dressed in protective beekeeper garb) shows a beekeeping frame, which holds beeswax honeycomb formed by the bees, to students Madison Hubbard (left) and Brady Hendricks.