

Brennan Costello elected as president of Nebraska FFA

Written by Elizabeth Barrett
Thursday, 14 April 2011 13:59 -

Gothenburg High School senior Brennan Costello, son of Steve and Becky Costello of Gothenburg, is president of the Nebraska Future Farmers of America.

The selection, last Friday, was from a field of 12 finalists and during FFA state convention in Lincoln.

Costello had preliminary interviews in March and eight more interviews during three days of state convention.

Also elected were five vice-presidents and a secretary.

State officers plan and run COLT leadership conferences for officer teams from FFA chapters around the state. They are also involved in other activities during their one-year term.

Costello, who has been chosen as a Scott scholar, will study architectural engineering at the Peter Kiewitt Institute at the University of Nebraska at Omaha.