

Finishing touches

Written by Elizabeth Barrett
Friday, 08 July 2011 13:54 -

Paint Job: Jeff Bonifas of Bonifas Painting sprays the color jericho jade on the doors and surrounding area of the Sun Theatre. The rest of the building was painted a latte color at the end of a refurbishing project that included masonry repair and the replacement of three windows. Bonifas did preparation work and painted last week. Sun Theatre co-manager Jill Rubenthaler said the paint project cost $5,000 and was done to protect the structure of the aging building and for aesthetic appeal as has been done at many other downtown businesses.