

Colorful cross-country runners

Written by Elizabeth Barrett
Friday, 20 July 2012 14:05 -

JOY JUMP

Some of the members of the Swede cross-country team, who named themselves the Lady Swedes, ran 3.1 miles Saturday in the annual Color Run in downtown Omaha which raised money for Habitat for Humanity. Participants ran through four stations during the event and were sprayed with different colors. Pictured are, l-r: Betsy Potter, Sydney Gruber, Natalie Mazour, Amanda Kowalewski, Carlie Stevens, Abbie Mazour and Alayna Collins. An estimated 13,000 runners participated. Not pictured: Destiny McVay, Cheyenne McVay and Jenny Maline.