

Hogwarts visits library

Written by Elizabeth Barrett

Friday, 14 December 2012 15:18 -

Gingerbread house display: This cracker and candy replica of Hogwarts, from the Harry Potter movies, was created by a local Destination Imagination team. The castle-like structure, and seven others, are on display at Gothenburg Public Library and can be viewed through Friday, Dec. 21, during regular library hours. Browsers are encouraged to select their favorite one.