

She put teacher on roof

Written by Elizabeth Barrett
Friday, 24 May 2013 13:56 -

Accelerated reading fun

First grader Ashlyn Richeson used points earned in an accelerated reading program to put teacher Ann Ostendorf (in background) on Dudley Elementary's roof. Students earn coupons for prizes, lunch with a teacher or for other things by the number of books they read and comprehend. While on the roof for an hour May 15, Ostendorf worked on her laptop computer.