Gothenburg FFA'ers celebrated its accomplishments during the school year and recognized several individuals and groups.

The banquet was on April 15 in the Gothenburg High School cafeteria followed by awards in the performing arts center.

Ag teacher and FFA adviser Dan Scherer noted how well the organization performed at state earlier this month, winning six events and placing in the top 10 in others.

"We had a good year," Scherer said.

Receiving appreciation awards for their support and involvement in FFA were David Jobman, Gary Kowalewski, Josh Cool, Barb Wheeler, Eastside Animal Center and the Lexington High School administration.

The star chapter farmer was Blake Ristine while Rebecca Anderson received the star agribusiness award. Jessica Schmidt won the workhorse award and star greenhands were Jessie Rudolph, Ebony Anderson and Josee Hotz.

Carson Messersmith received a star placement award.

Officers were also named for the 2014-15 school year. They are Amanda Kowalewski, president; and vice-presidents MaKaela Franzen, Faith Rickertsen, Emily Keiser, Bailey Aden, Mady Vogel, Tanner Borchardt and Jacob Clark. Secretary is Hailey Maline.
