

Eagles improve their times, distances

Written by Deb Egenberger
Thursday, 01 April 2010 16:28 -

Blede wins boys shot.

HERSHEY—The first outdoor competition of the spring for the Brady track team was a success in many ways, despite blow-you-over wind gusts and a last-minute meet format change.

“We were pleased with the results in most areas,” said Eagle coach Rich Britten. “Regardless of the weather, it’s good to get outside.”

The Brady boys earned one gold medal and a host of personal best performances in the non-scoring Hershey/St. Pat’s Invite.

The Eagle girls improved several marks and times over last week’s season opener, even without the benefit of finals.

Due to the wind and threat of rain, meet officials decided to eliminate the traditional preliminaries and run all events as finals.

For the boys, senior thrower Corbin Blede earned the only first place of the day in the shot. He threw 47 feet, 3.5 inches, more than three feet farther than the No. 2 thrower.

Eagles improve their times, distances

Written by Deb Egenberger

Thursday, 01 April 2010 16:28 -

On his 50-yard dash, the Eagles' top sprinter, Matt Smith, finished with a time of 5.9 seconds, a personal best. Smith's performance was a significant improvement over his previous best of 6.2 seconds. The Eagles' 50-yard dash team also set a new record with a combined time of 1:15.2, a testament to their speed and endurance. Smith's success was a key factor in the team's overall performance, which saw them improve their times and distances across various events. The team's dedication and hard work paid off, resulting in a strong showing at the competition. Smith's performance was particularly noteworthy, as it demonstrated the team's ability to perform under pressure and achieve their goals. The Eagles' success was a result of their consistent training and teamwork, which allowed them to push themselves to their limits and achieve their best. The team's performance was a source of pride for the school and a testament to their hard work and dedication. Smith's success was a key factor in the team's overall performance, which saw them improve their times and distances across various events. The team's dedication and hard work paid off, resulting in a strong showing at the competition. Smith's performance was particularly noteworthy, as it demonstrated the team's ability to perform under pressure and achieve their goals. The Eagles' success was a result of their consistent training and teamwork, which allowed them to push themselves to their limits and achieve their best. The team's performance was a source of pride for the school and a testament to their hard work and dedication.