Eagle girls move to No. 7 in state ratings.

Winning is always a good thing, says Brady volleyball coach Lynne Johnson.

Winning too easily, though, can put a damper on a team's drive and motivation.

The Eagles have won five straight games to improve to 9-2 on the season.

Johnson said when the victories seem to come too easily, as they did at the Arnold triangular on Sept. 15, it can be difficult to keep a team focused and driven to play hard.

Brady defeated Medicine Valley 25-21, 25-11 and then beat Arnold 25-13, 25-11.

"The girls can get a little too relaxed," Johnson said. "Right now, I'm looking for consistency."

In the first two games against Callaway Friday night, it looked as though the Eagles might handle the Bears without much challenge either.

"When our timing is clicking, we're a pretty fun team to watch," the coach said.
